

Evening and Weekend rental policy:

If a customer picks up a piece of rental equipment near the end of the day to return the next business day, the rate will typically be the minimum rental fee. The allowed pick up time is the last hour of that business day, and then the equipment will be due back the first hour of the following day. An example of this is picking up something in the last hour of the day on a Monday, and then it will be due back in the first hour of the day on Tuesday morning.

An exception for this rental policy is on Saturdays. We do not have Sunday hours. If you pick up equipment in the last hour of the day on Saturday night, it will be a 1-day rental with the equipment due back in the first hour on the following Monday morning. Metered equipment can not exceed 8 hours without incurring an extra charge.

Trucks are also an exception. Please see the section on truck rental for further information.
